Hi Downtown Friends!

I'm excited to share that Plaid Elephant Books has once again been chosen as a participating bookstore for the national Find Waldo Local event in July.

In its simplest form, Find Waldo is a downtown scavenger hunt which invites people to visit stores, hunting for small Waldo figures and collecting stamps in passports when they successfully spot him. Successful completion of the passport makes you eligible for prizes at the end of the 'season'.

This year, we have plans/aspirations to GROW the event, with more prizes and a more intentional Waldo Party at the end of the searching season. The culminating Waldo event will be timed to coincide with July's Third Thursday (July 20th).

If your business is interested in being one of the 'stops' in the Find Waldo passport, please fill out the Google form below by June 12th. And please spread the word to other downtown businesses that you know!

Thank you!

Hello Mike,

AASA's new academy and professional affinity group, Leadership Academy for Black Educators, will kick off July 20 - 21 in Alexandria, Va.! We intentionally designed this new academy to meet the needs of education professionals at different stages of their careers.

We're excited to come together in person next month for our first session where we'll explore:

Equity & Cultural Responsiveness

Confront and discuss institutional biases of student marginalization, deficit-based schooling, and low expectations associated with race, class, culture and language, gender and sexual orientation, and disability or special status.

The session will conclude with strategies participants can use to ensure equity of educational opportunity and culturally responsive practices that promote students' academic success and well-being.
